

ENVIRONMENT
AGENCY*R&D Dissemination Centre*

HOSTED BY:

WRcHomeRegisterBrowseSearchLoginBest SellersPurchasing HelpPRIVACYPASSWORDS

Title Review of Veterinary Medicines in the Environment
 Reference Number P6-012/8/TR
 Theme Integrated River Basin Management
 Function Water Quality
 Author(s) A B A Boxall; L Fogg; P A Blackwell; P Kay; E J Pemberton
 Publication Date March 2002
 ISBN 1 8570 5 780 5
 Price (Sterling) £45

Project Number P6-012/8
 Project
 Other Reports In
 Project

Keywords Veterinary medicines, Environmental hazard, Environmental fate, Environmental impact assessment, Risk assessment, Therapeutic group.

Abstract The environmental impacts of veterinary medicines are reviewed with the aim of identifying potentially damaging compounds requiring further investigation. The EU environmental risk assessments, models of environmental risk assessment, veterinary medicine use in the UK, pathways of environmental contamination, occurrence in the environment, metabolism and environmental fate, environmental hazard, priority medicines of concern, conclusions and recommendations are discussed.

Technical Summary

If you are a registered user, please login before you can view your shopping basket.

Copyright © 2002. This site is hosted and maintained by WRc
 Internet Solutions.

Please send comments to multimedia@wrcplc.co.uk.

